

Dr. Srinivas Chilukuri
Senior Consultant - Radiation Oncology

Dr. Srinivas Chilukuri is an adept radiation oncologist with 14 years of experience in the field. He has been trained at the Tata Memorial Centre and carries rich academic, research, teaching and industry experience.

Education

- Graduation at Armed Forces Medical College, Pune after securing all India rank 6.
- MD Radiation Oncology at Tata Memorial Centre, Mumbai in 2004, where he completed his training with a University Top Rank under the supervision of the legendary Dr. Ketayun Dinshaw.
- Joined Yashoda Cancer Institute (YCI) in June 2008 as a full-time consultant, to which he has been associated till March 2018.

Professional Work

- Significantly contributed in establishing RapidArc, IGRT, SRS and SBRT programme at YCI.
- Instrumental in establishing and running Varian School for High Precision Radiotherapy (in collaboration with Varian Medical Systems), which has till date trained more than 220 radiation oncologists and physicists across the Indian subcontinent.
- Co-founded Optimus Oncology Pvt. Ltd. with five of his friends and colleagues, which will be running 3 oncology departments in rural Maharashtra.
- Recently joined as Consultant-Medical affairs for Varian Medical Systems. He will be providing medical and scientific guidance, envision novel applications of new and existing technologies and will be representing Varian in regulatory board meetings as well as during interaction with the government.

Publications and Awards

- More than 30 recent publications in high impact international journals. He has collaborated with investigators in Europe and North America for some of those publications.
- Was in-charge of academics and tumor boards at YCI and 14 DNB students have completed their training under his direct supervision.
- Have been regular in various national and international meetings as an invited faculty.
- Among the several awards, in 2013, he received American Society of Clinical Oncology (ASCO) IDEA award for being among the most promising young oncologists for that year at their annual meeting in Chicago.
- Successfully organized a national level meeting of Indian Society of Neuro-Oncology at Hyderabad with more than 400 delegates. The meeting received rave reviews for academic format and content.
- Have been a part of a select ICMR panel consisting of around ten oncologists, who have formulated national guidelines on management of gastric cancers.